Acquaparete Wall Light

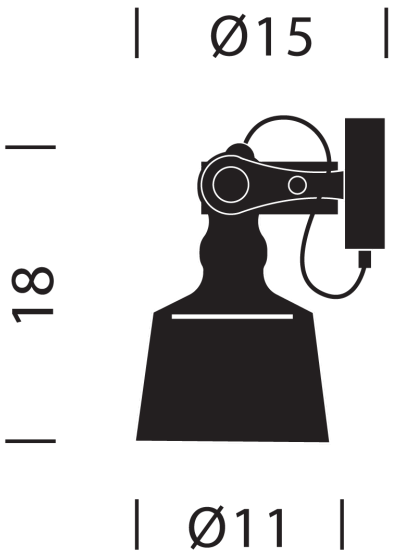

by Michele de Lucchi

Designed by Michele De Lucchi, the Acquaparete wall lamp is a continuation of the Acquatinta and inspired by the same themes. First produced in 1998 and composed of a blown glass shade and an adjustable metal arm, the artistry of the glass blowers and the quality of the materials imbue the piece with a unique sophistication. Acquaparete features an adjustable diffuser which may be rotated 180 degrees from top to bottom for direct or indirect illumination. Made in Italy.
