

In the Wind Floor Lamp

by Arihiro Miyake

Featuring an organic design highlighted by graceful curves and symmetry, In the Wind represents a new form in the evolution of LED technology. Its body is manufactured through a process of torsion and misalignment of an aluminum extruded bar, allowing full 360 degree illumination. In the Wind is perfect for use over in modern living rooms and bedrooms, and is also suitable for hospitality and commercial settings. In the Wind's structure is composed of die-casted aluminium, while its diffusers are made of opal metacrylate.
