

AS41C Pendant

by Franco Albini

The AS41Z Pendant Light by Franco Albini is a sophisticated, adjustable lighting solution that exemplifies the rationalistic philosophy of the Milanese architect. Designed in 1969 as part of the Albini AM/AS collection, this pendant lamp features a revolving and jointed arm, allowing precise positioning of the light where needed. The height and central position can be easily adjusted using the integrated cable clamp. Crafted with extreme attention to quality, including hand-blown glass diffusers, the AS41Z pendant light provides generous flood beam distribution, seamlessly managing different volumes within any space. Frame available in black or chrome with white glass diffuser.
