Blok Wall Light Cover

by

The Arcolight Blok Wall Light Cover is an optional square cover made for the Blok Wall Light. It gives the fitting a larger presence on the wall and keeps its up and down light distribution. The cover attaches easily to the Blok module, so the same base fitting can be used across a project with different looks where a design calls for it. It comes in different sizes, in textured black grey or textured white to match the Blok Wall Light finishes. Adding a cover lowers lumen output slightly, and the larger size lowers it more. Suited to facades, entries and interior corridors that need a bolder profile. The cover requires the Blok Wall Light module, sold separately.
