Zephyr Chandelier

by Carlo Colombo

The Artemide Zephyr is a minimalist and elegant pendant that reinterprets the traditional chandelier with contemporary sophistication. Designed by Carlo Colombo, Zephyr features a modular frame system that enables infinite custom layouts to suit the specific needs of each project. The distinctive modular element comprises a double cylindrical diffuser with a central body that encloses the integrated LED light sources. Through two innovative rings that rotate on the same axis, the system defines the position of neighbouring lighting bodies by precisely positioning the connecting structural elements. The diffuser is crafted from hand-blown glass with a wavy edge shape, ground to create a horizontal texture that alternates transparent and opaline stripes. This sophisticated workmanship creates glare-free diffusion of light. This grand chandelier configuration delivers 175W of power and 12735lm of warm 3000K light. Available in black or bronze finish. Made in Italy.
